

On Mar 29, 2018, at 12:26 PM, Rob Fischer wrote:

We have carefully considered the issues raised in your letter. After review, we are confident Doug's article reflects good journalism, and that his reporting is sound and supported by the facts and available data. We therefore see no reason to "remedy" anything in the article. However, Rolling Stone would be willing to publish a Letter to the Editor in which the NC Pork Council could state its disagreements with some of the article's findings.

Best regards,
Rob